Christianna Foundation
first renovated the

Elizabeth Adesola Akinjide Memorial Library

in 2016 at Elekuro High School Ibadan with its 1800 pupils.

After 7-years of continued use a heavy rain storm did serious damage to the ceiling and it required major works to make it a safe space for learning once again.

Table, chairs and shelves were fixed. Window frames and louvers were changed. Both floor and ceiling were fully restored and the whole library got a bright new coat of paint. We hope the pupils of Elekuro enjoy may more hours of reading and learning in their new library.

"The entire staff, School Governing Board and Parent Teacher Association of Elekuro High School appreciate the recent refurbishment of the school library. It is crucial to note that this will benefit the school and the students in no small way."
